Example of Intermediate Finance Analyst Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our growing company is looking for an intermediate finance analyst. We appreciate you taking the time to review the list of qualifications and to apply for the position. If you don't fill all of the qualifications, you may still be considered depending on your level of experience.

Responsibilities for intermediate finance analyst

- Performs a lead role in the planning, design, development, and deployment of new business applications and enhancements to existing business applications
- Meets with decision makers, systems owners, and end users to define business requirements and systems goals, and identify and resolve business systems issues
- Performs cost-benefit and return on investment analyses for proposed systems to aid management in making implementation decisions
- Works with QA team to coordinate and perform in-depth tests, for modified and new systems
- Conducts research on hardware and software products to justify recommendations and to support purchasing
- Meets with clients to discuss topics such as project activities, technical specifications, current business practices, growth plans, regulatory and reporting requirements and security risks
- Manages suppliers
- Mentors Junior Business Analysts
- Synthesizing and interpreting large quantities of data from diverse sources, and processing data into accurate, complete, and meaningful information for reporting purposes and/or to inform key business stakeholders
- Leading project initiatives relating to capital optimizations and process

Qualifications for intermediate finance analyst

- D) Risk Assessment & Quantification methodologies
- Minimum of 2 years of experience in a medium to large organization that operates using best practice performance management processes
- Promptly investigate queries from other team members, Senior Management and other areas of the business
- Cross Train individuals within the functions mentioned above
- Specific Education Requirements – CA, CMA, CGA designation achieved or working towards (preferred, but not a requirement)
- Exceptional analytical skills, including the ability to analyze several variables and develop causal links between them