Example of Database Administrator Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our growing company is hiring for a database administrator. Thank you in advance for taking a look at the list of responsibilities and qualifications. We look forward to reviewing your resume.

Responsibilities for database administrator

- Design and maintain Oracle RAC services supporting studio production applications
- Configure and monitor PostgreSQL replication across multiple environments
- Work directly with developers on query tuning, schema design, and index management
- Proactively monitor databases to ensure high level of performance, availability, and security
- Monitor database performance for proactive actions preventing production issues impacting full customer base
- Work with external technology partners to minimize TCO and maximize performance
- Manage and maintain multiple databases across development, UAT, QA, and production environments
- Manage, monitor and maintain data integration and data flow with firm systems
- Performs research and evaluation of new database features and technology
- Create and maintain replicated databases over the local LAN and WAN

Qualifications for database administrator

- DB tuning for Linux Environment
- Java Application Server Concepts
- Fundamental understanding of database internals and data structures,

- Solid knowledge of SQL and database procedural languages
- Solid knowledge of Unix shell, Perl or other scripting languages
- Experience working with TSM and TDP backup infrastructure