Our company is growing rapidly and is hiring for a product manager. To join our growing team, please review the list of responsibilities and qualifications.

Responsibilities for product manager

- Manage product development process for new and existing token services products with focus on the Core Token Service Provider (TSP) product
- Work under limited direction, perform a variety of complex engineering assignments requiring in-depth knowledge of a specific engineering discipline plus an understanding of related disciplines to cost effectively achieve objectives
- Proactively seek and implement initiatives to improve operations and increase customer satisfaction
- Provide technical input, recommendations and decisions may impact the organization's effectiveness and customer relations
- Be the mastermind of our success by shaping, representing & communicating our product strategy based on a deep and fact based understanding of the market, market segments, user needs and the underlying market problems and business opportunities
- Drive execution against that strategy working with product development teams
- Engage with consumers and partners to understand their needs and create actionable insights that will drive our product development
- Evolve and shape our product management practices and the way how product management works with designers, developers and others to deliver great product increments, fast

Qualifications for product manager

- Previous experience delivering hardware based products
- 3rd level qualification, in Computer Science or IT Engineering degree or work experience a strong plus
- Knowledgeable in technology - Hardware
- Extensive experience across structural design, detailing or fabrication for reinforced concrete of precast concrete industry workflows is essential
- Experience with Revit is essential