Dear Frankie Monahan,

Please consider me for the clinical team manager opportunity. I am including my resume that lists my qualifications and experience.

Previously, I was responsible for expertise to the training department on HEDIS / STAR measures and on the tools that support the collection of HEDIS / STAR data.

I reviewed the requirements of the job opening and I believe my candidacy is an excellent fit for this position. Some of the key requirements that I have extensive experience with include:

- Serve as the escalation point for the Project Manager
- PhD or PharmD level scientist with life sciences background
- Demonstrated project and people leadership and problem-solving skills in managing clinical trial project managers / scientists accompanied by a strong knowledge in relevant Human Resources topics
- Broad range of clinical skills including psychiatric assessment, capacity to formulate a case and develop a
- RN License in Kansas and Missouri preferred
- Ensure standardization of applications by promoting shared processes, data harmonization and architectural compliance where possible, developing effective relationships with other Informatics Business Partners and Business Solution Managers to create cross-functional solutions and to initiate new projects
- Develop a highly engaged team and foster a collaborative team spirit across team members globally and specifically in San Francisco
- Establish positive working relationships and proactively network to build strong partnerships with the Business stakeholders and Informatics groups meaningfully influencing internal and external service providers and business stakeholders in directing them toward achievement of strategies and objectives

I really appreciate you taking the time to review my application for the position of clinical team manager.

Sincerely,

Casey Lowe
