- Current Master Electrician license issued by the Texas Department of Licensing and Regulation
- Current International Code Council (ICC) certifications
- Stay current with technical developments in area of expertise through continuing education, conferences, and periodicals, and continues to develop in-depth specialization
- Provide recommendations for salary increases and promotions for construction engineering staff
- Participate in Fluor University and other avenues for self development and the development of the construction engineering staff
- Complies with the Project Engineering, Project Management File and applies the imposed tools
- Experience in driving change and continuous improvement while gaining support and building consensus from all levels of the organization

I really appreciate you taking the time to review my application for the position of construction engineering.

Sincerely,
