Dear Zion Hills,

I am excited to be applying for the position of data steward. Please accept this letter and the attached resume as my interest in this position.

In the previous role, I was responsible for data subject matter expertise to various project teams as it relates to data management and governance.

My experience is an excellent fit for the list of requirements in this job:

- Strong analytical skills hands-on experience with data-related issue analysis and development of solutions to resolve data quality issues
- Prior experience with SQL or any type of Relational database application
- Demonstrated expertise in data management functions including data stewardship, data quality, metadata management, data architecture, data modeling, data warehousing and business intelligence, master and reference data, data security, and data integration
- Strong understanding of Data Governance (e.g., developing and implementing data standards, policies, practices, and procedures that lead to substantive improvements in data quality)
- Knowledge and experience managing data architectures, policies, practices and procedures to appropriately and effectively address business and stakeholder's needs
- Familiarity with tools used for analyzing and documenting metadata, data profiling, logical relationships among data, processes or events
- Proficiency with tools, techniques and standards to ascertain the quality, effectiveness, security and accuracy of information systems
- Databases management (Like and can handle big quantity of information)

Thank you for taking your time to review my application.

Sincerely,
