Dear Dylan Medhurst,

In response to your job posting for ecommerce, I am including this letter and my resume for your review.

In my previous role, I was responsible for pricing analytics research, ad-hoc analytical support and recommendations based on analytics to drive greater revenue and profitability.

Please consider my experience and qualifications for this position:

- Attracts and develops people
- Relative experience in the Accounts Receivable field would be desirable
- Organised and methodical person with logical approach in addressing issues
- Experience in Building and leading an eCommerce team
- Experience with both B2C and B2B eCommerce strongly
- Receive, process, and verify the accuracy of orders from customers utilizing the organization's internal CRM/mainframe system customer purchase orders
- Answer customer reviews submitted on our Social media and on e-Commerce websites
- Clarify to the customers the company policies such as returns and exchanges

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
