My experience is an excellent fit for the list of requirements in this job:

- Certification in an Information Technology related field
- A creative thinker with a passion and curiosity for technology, and a sincere drive to create value
- Comfortable presenting ideas formally and informally to small to large groups
- Knowledge and experience with project management activities for waterfall system development and agile frameworks
- Some familiarity with
- Knowledge of Unix Operatings systems (Linux and Solaris
- Should be able to look at the error logs , config files and understand the problem symptom and route the incident/problem to the appropriate teams
- Experience in architecting solutions with complex data and service integrations with multiple systems that include a combination of near real time and bulk data transfer methods

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Ari Schuster
