Dear Riley Mills,

In response to your job posting for java developer lead, I am including this letter and my resume for your review.

In my previous role, I was responsible for thought leadership on best practices and new technologies related to web analytics, A/B and multivariate testing.

Please consider my qualifications and experience:

- Cassandra and ElasticSearch
- Software engineers will work in small, cross-functional teams
- They will collaborate directly and continuously with product managers and designers, and business partners to release early and often
- Extensive experience in Front-end development using JavaScript, and various JS frameworks and libraries
- Good practical knowledge of RDBMS solutions
- Hands on experience with message based system, JMS
- Agile Development experience or with any other iterative software development methodology
- Experience integrating a search engine

Thank you in advance for taking the time to read my cover letter and to review my resume.

Sincerely,

Justice Heller
