

Example of Advisor, Financial Analysis Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is searching for experienced candidates for the position of advisor, financial analysis. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for advisor, financial analysis

- Comprehensively analyze and interpret projected results and ensure trends are substantiated and grounded in principle in order to provide senior management with an understanding of issues to allow them to take appropriate action where required
- Identify process improvement opportunities within the FP&A group and propose solutions
- Develop and maintain strong relationships with business unit asset teams, Business Development, Treasury, Tax, Risk, Corp Strategy, and Financial Reporting, to ensure that financial projections are valid and incorporate their collective outlook
- Support management, and lead projects, to develop financial projections to meet the needs of other corporate groups
- Support FP&A Transformation initiatives and take part in special projects as they arise
- Identify process inconsistencies and recommend improvements
- Support Business Partners in developing the effective reports and data points to assist analysis and decision making
- Identify opportunities to leverage system tools to automate tasks / processes
- Responsible for supporting assigned operations business units in annual budgeting and periodic forecasting of operating expense budgets
- Accountable for monthly close processes including reporting, expense analysis, variance analysis and correcting discrepancies through journal entry

Qualifications for advisor, financial analysis

- Validate Spiff/Contest/Bonus eligibility, and submit quarterly payout items
- At least 2 to 3 year's prior experience in a Controllership/FP&A role supporting the business
- Advanced PC skills (Excel and PowerPoint a must)
- Prefer a Masters Degree in Finance or Accounting with 6+ years of professional experience
- Master's Degree (preferably in Economics or Management), financial and analytical experience (strong in Excel and PWP applications is a must)
- Responsible for performing account reconciliations of equipment returned, amounts paid in rent, tracking miscellaneous charges