

Example of Aero Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our growing company is hiring for an aero. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for aero

- Provide necessary shipping information for timely customs clearance
- Enter and monitor the ERP item master database, with actual, made proposals to change as appropriate from time to time
- Work with suppliers to implement phase out/phase in plan
- Co-ordinate with SBM for any supplier issues
- Lead calls with operation leaders to review estimates, milestones, drive opportunities and mitigate risks, recommending actions
- Lead project billing and cash collection
- Manage financial accounting of Long Term Service Agreements (LTSA) such as Customer Service Agreement (CSA) & Construction contracts transactional services contracts
- Actively participate in contract handover reviews from Inquiry -to-Order (ITO) to Order-to-Remittance (OTR) terms and conditions (T&C) clarifications, Management Entity setup, payment security, hedging evaluation
- Lead process improvements and drive simplification projects
- Develop and implement strategic plan by identifying new technologies, tool capability needs, and validation requirement

Qualifications for aero

- Ability to work independently and accept the responsibility of own quality and work
- Co-ordination and communication skill to work with multiple stakeholders and functional groups to resolve complex technical issues in collaborated way of translating marketing requirements into development specifications, and experience developing products using Agile Scrum software development expertise in the management of agile product development

- Demonstrated technical understanding of software application development with knowledge of iOS, HTML5 and responsive design, or Android
- Must hold Master Degree or PhD in Engineering (Electrical/Mechanical/Avionics) with 18+ years of relevant industry experience (safety critical systems - aerospace, defense, automotive)
- Must have worked in 5 or more end to end product development projects with significant leadership accountability