

Our innovative and growing company is searching for experienced candidates for the position of agile scrum coach. Thank you in advance for taking a look at the list of responsibilities and qualifications. We look forward to reviewing your resume.

Responsibilities for agile scrum coach

- Work with Product Owners and team to ensure economically viable trade-offs are being made regarding important variables such as features, date, budget, and quality
- Administer metrics tracking and other duties on behalf of the team
- Being a change-agent who help people in the team, others in the larger organization in understanding the need for change and the broad-reaching benefits of Agile thinking and practice
- Assess the current organization and delivery environment and recommend optimal Agile practices
- Provide coaching and training at the program and team levels
- Support the team and enable Scrum Master, Product Owner and other roles to effectively perform their roles
- Facilitate and assist the team in practices to break work down into smaller sizes to deliver in a single sprint
- Coach teams through Agile routines and ceremonies including Sprint Planning, Scrum, Backlog Refinement, Demo, Retrospective, and PI Planning - transitioning responsibility to the team over time
- Help support agile tool adoption and consistent utilization
- Help establish and support consistent reporting practices across the teams

Qualifications for agile scrum coach

- Working in strictly time-boxed iterations with adaptive planning using

- Facilitating Scrum Ceremonies (Planning Sessions, Stand Ups, Reviews, Retrospectives), Backlog Refinement and User Story Workshops
- Experience with Distributed Teams and Agile tools, including Jira, Confluence & Crucible
- Building and maintaining visible project dashboards and charts on progress and status
- Creating appropriate tracking and performance metrics that encourage team work
- Developing and delivering training on foundational Agile/Scrum principles/practices and role-specific workshops for building next level skills for individual & organizational success