Our innovative and growing company is looking for an analyst, business intelligence. Please review the list of responsibilities and qualifications. While this is our ideal list, we will consider candidates that do not necessarily have all of the qualifications, but have sufficient experience and talent.

Responsibilities for analyst, business intelligence

- Providing thought leadership, best practices, and standards required to deliver effective solutions to our stakeholders across our global business
- Design and maintain reports within the corporate EDW using GERP, GDMI, and GSCP
- Provide insights to different stakeholders
- Engage cross-functionally to create as much reporting automation as possible
- Analyze data using visualizations and statistics to forecast and plan short and long term personnel requirements, optimize staffing levels, and evaluate workforce performance
- Analyzing current marketing programs and developing models/strategies that can lead to a more optimal spend of the marketing dollars
- Works with internal and external customers to design, develop, test, deploy and support and analyze business intelligence needs
- Identify, analyze and interpret trends in complex data sets
- Participates in planning process including inception, technical design, development, testing and delivery of and BI solutions
- Translate business requirements into specifications that will be used to develop and implement BI solution

Qualifications for analyst, business intelligence

- Experience working with both technical and business teams required
- Airline or transport interest preferred but not required
- Understanding of key statistical methods preferred
- Ability to create spreadsheet models and produce relevant outputs