

Example of Analyst, Business Support Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is growing rapidly and is looking for an analyst, business support. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for analyst, business support

- Works with business leaders and acts as a liaison between Business Units within Consumer Lending and Information Technology Group (ITG) other key business partners
- Participates in studies of new technologies used in Consumer Lending
- Combines research and recommendations with requirements for systems or process changes
- Documents methods, hardware, software or equipment that would enhance productivity
- Leads the gathering of business requirements needs the design of solutions
- Assist the implementation manager with the execution of new regulatory programs and strategic initiatives
- Develops business user test plans and test cases and is responsible and for conducting overseeing for user testing new technologies
- Accountable for user sign-off of changes
- Write financial and technical briefs on startup companies based on inputs provided
- Research independently on companies, competitors, technology trends

Qualifications for analyst, business support

- Experience on working with different databases like SQL SERVER 2008R2, Oracle 9i & 11g and SharePoint application
- Good understanding on concepts of SDLC

- Ability to communicate and work across the organization with in a challenging business climate
- Strong understanding of traditional and alternative asset class investment data, including but not limited to equity, fixed income, private equity, real estate, derivatives, mutual funds, ETFs, global assets, foreign exchange
- Provide Level 2 Incident Management support for customer facing applications with a goal of meeting business service levels