

Example of Analyst, Ecommerce Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our growing company is looking for an analyst, ecommerce. Please review the list of responsibilities and qualifications. While this is our ideal list, we will consider candidates that do not necessarily have all of the qualifications, but have sufficient experience and talent.

Responsibilities for analyst, ecommerce

- Solving data problems to support an automated Business Intelligence platform
- Providing support to a diverse range of users in the context of Business Intelligence and Reporting
- Creating answers to commercial questions posed by the business, solving problems and delivering valuable, useable insight via provision of high quality data analytics
- Providing scheduled and ad-hoc reports to stakeholders across the business, minimising amount of manual work required
- Developing new reports to help the user base self-serve within the Business Intelligence platform
- If not already then becoming a Qlikview master
- Providing insight from the wide variety of data sources available from a multi-channel retail environment
- Supporting the Data team across a variety of functions including Fraud, User Experience and Web Analytics
- Working on a program of constant improvements to the existing Business Intelligence system
- Picking up on exceptions within the systems in scope and reacting to them in a timely fashion

Qualifications for analyst, ecommerce

- A minimum of 4 years business analysis, project management and/or eCommerce experience required
- Ability to make effective and persuasive speeches and presentations on potentially controversial and complex topics to top management, public groups and/or to influence outcomes
- Bachelor's degree in business or equivalent supply chain experience
- Ability to work in dynamic work environment and communicate with all aspects of the organization from deployment, to marketing, to merchandising and audit personnel
- Bachelor's degree in Information Systems, Computer Science, Business Administration or related discipline is required
- 2-3 years experience in technology or software implementation projects