

Example of Analyst, Regulatory Reporting Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is growing rapidly and is searching for experienced candidates for the position of analyst, regulatory reporting. To join our growing team, please review the list of responsibilities and qualifications.

Responsibilities for analyst, regulatory reporting

- Carry out testing running end of day processing in Moody's Risk Authority to produce regulatory reports and work closely with end users in interpreting and validating test results
- Ensure development is carried out using best practice techniques ensuring optimisation, throughput, scale and efficiency have been factored in the design of the build
- Provide timely updates to stakeholders in terms of progress and status of issues
- Work with Oracle support, raising Moody's support cases or SR's on MOS and provide any supporting information required such as diagnostics
- Work on improving the technological platform through continual improvement
- Ensure change is compliant with strict change control policies and system changes are subjected to rigorous testing
- Communicate with wider technology teams to ensure fixes or enhancements are executed in a controlled and co-ordinated manner
- Review and clarify Business Requirements from stakeholders
- Analyze and document requirements using advanced analysis techniques such as rule tables, decision models, sequence diagrams, swimlane diagrams
- Identify robust solutions with enough experience and industry knowledge to solve current and plan for expansion into broader application of same or similar logic

-
- Production of mandatory external Large Exposures regulatory reporting CoRep, FSA018 and GSIBs reporting
 - Preparation of both intercompany and third party Large Exposure figures for presentation to senior management
 - Monitoring of Large Exposures against the pre-determined limits and raising any issues to both Senior Management and the Large Exposures Oversight Committee in both a timely and accurate manner
 - Assessing the impact of regulatory changes in the Large Exposures Reporting space
 - Support any new mandatory regulatory requirements
 - Preparation of any other required regulatory information for the Bank