

Example of Analyst, Transportation Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our innovative and growing company is looking for an analyst, transportation. Thank you in advance for taking a look at the list of responsibilities and qualifications. We look forward to reviewing your resume.

Responsibilities for analyst, transportation

- Completes special projects assigned by supervisor or other work group analysts under close supervision
- Experience within a global organization with a focus on supporting internal/external stakeholders
- Knowledge of the North American rail industry
- Knowledge using a TMS system
- 20% Identify, create and validate initiatives that improve both processes and costs
- Creating ad-hoc analyses relating to distribution cost or service as identified by senior company leaders or self-directed study of issues
- Ensuring the process for generating all daily, weekly, quarterly, annual reports and scorecards are documented using MS Word (procedures) and maintained current
- Develop US Requirements for WW bids, review and confirm bid preparatory data, evaluate the results to award the business, balancing cost, inventory, and lead time for each lane, work with carrier/purchasing/ship sites to implement
- Monitor and work to improve carrier/forwarder transit time performance
- Act as focal point for carrier related issues and address with carriers for necessary improvement

Qualifications for analyst, transportation

- Ability to handle and analyze large data files and respond with the customer in mind
- Competency in Statistical and/or Transportation Analysis tools (Minitab, SAS, Metlab, i2, Tmod, ILPS)
- Ability to work with a team independently
- Bachelor's degree required, preferably in Business, Logistics or Supply Chain Management
- Experience using HTML, PERL, SQL, Java, AJAX, RoR programming languages