Our company is looking for an application support developer. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for application support developer

- Records and updates defect logs to monitor system reliability
- Ensure MMS application, Reporting Solution, Visibility Tool, RF Scanning solution, Label Printing Software and integrations between core application and CEVA suite of solutions continue to meet and exceed the needs of CEVA
- Design and implement a strategy for integrating C2C application with other CEVA solutions such as Supply Chain Management, CVDB, OFS, Navigator, and others
- Works with Solutions Owners, Solutions Analysts, Business Owners and Customers to translate requirements into solutions meeting business needs
- Develops detailed designs based on documented requirements on product services and enhancements
- Consistent and reliable delivery execution of activities to defined service levels, schedules, and budget
- Provide input for process efficiencies within the overall design
- Provide expertise to the design process as requested
- Responds to unfamiliar, undefined, unexpected, or unstable situations with a professionally prescribed standard response
- Define delivery schedules and ensure execution to plan for assigned deliverables

Qualifications for application support developer

- Possess a basic understanding of the different systems/applications in use in

- Familiar with development, support and maintenance of technical solutions is a must
- Basic knowledge of TCP based protocols http client / server programming, C/C++ or Java is a plus
- Working knowledge of industry standard formats, especially XML, CSV, and JSON
- Excellent programming skills in Perl , Shell , Java ,Angular JS or Ext Js and JavaScript