

Example of Architectural Engineer Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our innovative and growing company is searching for experienced candidates for the position of architectural engineer. To join our growing team, please review the list of responsibilities and qualifications.

Responsibilities for architectural engineer

- Provides mentoring in technical and organizational areas across multiple work groups
- May supervise other engineers or technicians
- Review project plans, specifications, construction agreements
- Perform occasional field inspections of work in process on construction loans when required or requested
- Review, analyze and approve architectural and engineering plans in order to assure that health care facilities are designed in accordance with applicable construction standards
- Evaluate, select and apply standard architectural engineering techniques, procedures, and criteria using judgment and best practices
- Prepare and communicate appropriate correspondence to architects, engineers, designers, and health care providers, addressing any code-related deficiencies noted during plan reviews
- Respond to staff/applicant inquiries regarding the status of all projects under review
- Provide technical engineering expertise and consultation to staff, responding to specific licensure/certification questions and concerns during the plan review process
- Process all necessary forms and data entries in order to record project timelines and metrics

Qualifications for architectural engineer

- A post-graduate education/degree is desired and may contribute towards the desired years of experience
- High level of basic demonstrated knowledge proficiency through Registration and / or Certification
- Troubleshoot problems with plumbing systems and cafeteria equipment, irrigation systems
- Ability to detect malfunctions and repair equipment
- Ability to clean clogged drains and replaces plumbing fixtures
- Notify manager of maintenance issues