Our innovative and growing company is searching for experienced candidates for the position of associate programmer. We appreciate you taking the time to review the list of qualifications and to apply for the position. If you don't fill all of the qualifications, you may still be considered depending on your level of experience.

Responsibilities for associate programmer

- Ownership of data analysis and data integrity throughout the system
- Includes, but not limited to requirements gathering, technical design, application development and architecture, validation testing, and maintenance of investment management applications
- Adhere to the IT department policies, procedures and development practices, including application life cycle standards and procedures
- Relationship management with internal business partners and vendors that we work closely with daily
- Preparation of documentation including requirements documents, test and implementation plans, and system reference materials
- On call support and occasional overtime may be required
- Ability to take ownership, be accountable, and to be decisive
- Develop web and desktop applications and interfaces between systems according to client requirements using company defined life cycle processes and tools
- Support the development of documentation according to the company defined development life cycle
- Design, develop and maintain various databases used by Finance applications

Qualifications for associate programmer

- Good understanding of core computer science concepts, a BSc and MSc in Computer Science
- Experience with web-based languages is required
- Ability to create high quality presentations and present information to potential customers
- Excellent written and verbal communication skills in English is a must
- Bachelors of Science degree in a technical area such as computer science, or math and five years of programming experience or a Master's of Science degree in a technical area and three years of programming experience