Our company is looking for an AVP product management. Thank you in advance for taking a look at the list of responsibilities and qualifications. We look forward to reviewing your resume.

Responsibilities for AVP product management

- Detailed focus on the management and goverance of the following key End User Technologies (Mobility Tools – Xenmobile, Collaboration Tools – Jabber, Slack, Webex, , Desktop – Both virtual and physical, MACS)
- Maintain product roadmaps and lifecycle management
- Obtain End User Requirements and negotiate delivery expectations (via Stakeholds, business, Business Service Managers)
- Maintain a strong understanding of MIT's product portfolio, strategies, internal market dynamics
- Deliver strategic direction and work collaboratively with cross-functional partners to develop and release cutting-edge products that address client needs
- Actively manage and support Stakeholders of all levels
- Facilitate the development of business cases to support product portfolio investments
- Design and manage beta/pilot programs for end user products
- Deliver Products with prioritized features and corresponding justification
- Vendor relationship management (Citrix, Cisco, Dell, Microsoft, Apple, etc)

Qualifications for AVP product management

- Product management experience associated with evaluating dynamic decisions and contributing towards recommendations that enhance the

- 3-5 years of Credit and Lending business or operations experience or a background in Operational Risk Management is preferred
- Experience and knowledge of securities and the securities industry
- Demonstrated track record of successfully driving change including some leadership experience
- Successful management of technology change requests from inception to implementation
- Experience within a brokerage firm or bank providing securities based and margin loans is ideal