

Example of Biology Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our innovative and growing company is looking for a biology. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for biology

- Maintain student records, attendance, grades, and other documentation as required
- Maintain a safe, quality classroom/ lab, including equipment, supplies, inventory and maintenance
- Introduces elementary cell structure, metabolism, and reproduction
- Perform approved research projects according to defined protocols and procedures, including appropriate collection, record keeping and storage, analysis of data, and reporting of results
- Prepare, label, store and dispose of reagents, and calibrates equipment for research projects
- Maintain a safe clean laboratory-working environment including appropriate equipment maintenance and usage, by conforming to laboratory and policies and standards
- Assist in obtaining educational resources necessary to perform and interpret research and to remain abreast in research a function
- Responsible for following the mandatory reporting procedures for any incident or serious event that did affect or potentially have affected the clinical care of any patient
- Follow the mandatory reporting procedures for any incident or serious event that did affect or potentially could have affected clinical care of any patient
- Serve as the lead instructor for Anatomy & Physiology I & II (BIOL113 & 213) lab and lecture sections, and Pathophysiology (BIOL205) lecture

Qualifications for biology

- At a minimum, the candidate must possess a 4-year degree in biology, Environmental Sciences or related field and at least 5-10 years of related work experience
- The candidate must have working experience with ARCGIS and Adobe Illustrator
- Maintain and expand cell culture
- Conduct cell-based functional assays
- Make protein lysates and DNA and RNA from cells and tissues