Our company is growing rapidly and is looking to fill the role of business analyst lead. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for business analyst lead

- Happy to work in a constantly changing / fast paced environment as either a member of a project team or as a standalone analyst
- A confident communicator, with the ability to share information and transfer knowledge and expertise to team members
- Able to work with stakeholders at many different levels, identifying and interpreting their needs and requirements
- Commercial experience in service delivery
- Entrepreneurial experience in creating/growing initiatives
- Experience in quantitative modelling and familiarity/comfort in working with data sets provided by multiple sources
- Report writing and generation experience
- Educated to bachelor degree level in a quantitative field, or have the equivalent experience or qualifications
- Able to join up/make sense of disparate information sources
- Able to work in international virtual teams, within a matrix style organisation

Qualifications for business analyst lead

- Experience working as a lead (leading projects, leading other business analysts), Demonstrated ability to work as a team player
- Act as the product owner for an Agile team if/as needed by the business
- Create and deliver data-driven status reports as needed to ensure organizational awareness

- Support businesses with defining the business need or problem