Our growing company is looking for a business analyst lead. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for business analyst lead

- Experience in the logical design of system solutions
- Experience of data analysis, the use of databases and simple data modelling
- A transparent communicator
- A believer in technology as a business enabler
- Open to innovation, uncertainty and change
- In possession of Integrity, trust and fairness
- Being the conduit between business and technology
- Solution design & definition
- Undertake take analysis and develop detailed project plans
- A strong experience in the analysis, support and enhancement of a derivatives risk management system, or similar experience in a related IT area, such as market risk, trade capture and lifecycle or pricing

Qualifications for business analyst lead

- Line of Business, Business Services and Middleware documentation experience a plus
- Accurate translation of business needs into requirements that are understood by all stakeholders
- Establish excellent communications across stakeholder domains
- 8+ years of progressive experience within business analysis including leadership responsibilities
- 5+ years of experience writing, evaluating, and de-constructing user stories
- 3+ years of experience working within a financial services industry, including