Our growing company is hiring for a business development operations. We appreciate you taking the time to review the list of qualifications and to apply for the position. If you don't fill all of the qualifications, you may still be considered depending on your level of experience.

Responsibilities for business development operations

- Support project management throughout IS initiatives
- Assist in determining the cross-application technology standards, data distribution standards, and IS architecture strategies
- Produce IS project deliverables including business process design, business requirements, use cases, and validation documentation
- Work with architects and other business analysts to ensure that all components work together to meet objectives and performance goals as defined in the requirements
- Support application development and test teams
- You support us with design and implementation of e-commerce projects
- You assist in the introduction and development of SAP online and omnichannel processes (initialization, development, testing, piloting, rollout and operation)
- You are actively working with us on e-commerce business development initiatives
- You plan and document independently integrative test scenarios, and get a deep insight into our online business and SAP systems
- You support the monitoring of customer orders and help us with troubleshooting

Qualifications for business development operations

- Experience in project management, managing operational initiatives, including how to leverage technology
- Keen understanding of functional support and information systems
- Knowledge of consumer products landscape and consumer trends a plus
- Familiarity with information sharing, content management and analytics practices in the biotechnology industry
- Knowledge of data sets and their relationships generated as part of biotech Process Development preferred
- Ability to apply advanced data visualization techniques using tools such as Spotfire, Tableau to Process Development data preferred