Our company is searching for experienced candidates for the position of business systems analyst lead. To join our growing team, please review the list of responsibilities and qualifications.

Responsibilities for business systems analyst lead

- Engage with the business users at different levels to understand business needs, document the requirements
- Translate business requirements to system functional design
- Gathers & documents business and functional requirements from business stakeholders
- Self-starter attitude, working independently under limited guidance
- Provide insight on all Enterprise Architecture domains (business, information, application and technology) and how they connect
- Advise business of enabling technology that can improve business processes
- Leads/performs the formulation, definition, and documentation of systems/application scope and objectives working closely with systems architecture, development and engineering teams
- Determines and ensures resolution to highly complex system/application problems
- Acts as the primary liaison between key business area and systems teams, and communicates project feasibility, status and issues to key stakeholders
- Provides project task level supervision to Developers, Business System Analysts, and / or Sr

Qualifications for business systems analyst lead

- Resolves issues through mediation, negotiation with management level, or

- Escalation Management - Consistently demonstrates sound judgment in knowing when/what to escalate and to whom
- Ability to analyze unstructured problem within an LOB with some supervision and present it as a structured problem to feedback to stakeholders and downstream users
- Identifies gaps in the problem statement across applications, develops mitigation
- Comfortable handling Risk and Uncertainty across Applications
- Understands the difference between Perfect and "good enough"