Our company is looking to fill the role of business technical analyst. Thank you in advance for taking a look at the list of responsibilities and qualifications. We look forward to reviewing your resume.

Responsibilities for business technical analyst

- Assist with prioritising the requirements and backlog according to business value
- Need to be creative and forward-thinking
- Need to be able to think outside the box and look at the 'art of the possible'
- Identifying and understanding the business needs whilst analysing the proposed solution from a technical and operational perspective
- Liaise with business SME's and stakeholders to gather concise and on point business requirements
- Documentation and management of requirements and/or user stories that can be understood by the business and development resources throughout the project lifecycles
- Assist the design and development team to deliver quality features
- Participate and coordinate the user acceptance testing activates
- Build and drive key relationships across the business
- Vendor analysis and management

Qualifications for business technical analyst

- Well developed knowledge of trading processes
- Is responsive and available to business partners
- Previous experience in the development of standard system documentation, testing software, tracking issues and working with developers
- BA/BS in a technical field and 3+ years of professional experience or a

- Demonstrated experience of software development cycle (SDLC) in an Agile environment
- The ideal candidate will have a minimum of 3-5 years of business experience and technical/ analytical skills