

Example of Business Unit Director Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is looking to fill the role of business unit director. We appreciate you taking the time to review the list of qualifications and to apply for the position. If you don't fill all of the qualifications, you may still be considered depending on your level of experience.

Responsibilities for business unit director

- A highly skilled user of Microsoft Excel, PowerPoint and Word
- Identifies value creation opportunities and develop timelines, deliverables, and measurements to ensure value is realized
- Lead and direct site administrative personnel
- Will partner to develop insight and pragmatic view of ongoing performance and opportunities for operational development, quality and ongoing improvements
- Work with business operational oversight
- Collaborate with Regional BU Head, TA, GM and other functions on global/regional market strategy to achieve revenue and commercial goals
- Ensure strategic alignment and resource allocation across indication and within business unit
- Department budget responsibility
- Ensure coordination with other country functions
- Support Access (dependent on each country practice)

Qualifications for business unit director

- History of top performance with strong leadership focused on a collaborative, results-oriented culture
- Strong written and verbal communication skills with capability to facilitate deep technical conversations

- Proven and extensive experience in the asset management industry gained from working in investment banks required
- Possessing skills and experiences to work at Executive Director level in an investment bank required
- General knowledge of financial markets and specific knowledge and experience within the asset management industry and across asset classes required (spanning both developed and emerging markets)