Our innovative and growing company is looking to fill the role of cash application analyst. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for cash application analyst

- Work with Exchanges and Brokers/Vendors to resolve connectivity issues
- Provides detailed specifications describing functions to be automated
- May function as a technical leader, either as a subject matter expert with proficiency in defined area (s) of the profession, or as a generalist, with a broad knowledge of all aspects of the profession
- May function as a team leader, responsible for supporting management in day-to-day personnel oversight and workflow management activities
- May conduct continuing education sessions and new employee training
- Leads discovery sessions that document requirements and workflows, and proposes build to address customer needs
- Optimizes departmental and interdisciplinary resources to maximize team
- Has a leadership role in the evaluation and revision of existing information systems
- Coordinates and operationalizes complex projects
- Performs daily cash application of payments made to several lockboxes, ACH Transmission, NOC Returns, Wire Transfers and Deposit Control

Qualifications for cash application analyst

- Responsible for ensuring the process owned adheres to internal controls
- Perform daily and monthly cash reconciliation
- Cash reconciliations, monthly reporting and report production
- Perform UAT testings for change or enhancement to business process and

- Research, identify and apply all payment application within SLA and accurately
- Document issues, monitor escalations and troubleshoots problems