Our innovative and growing company is looking for a clinical analytics. To join our growing team, please review the list of responsibilities and qualifications.

Responsibilities for clinical analytics

- Facilitate the development and maintenance, with the support of the functions, new or improved executive-level metrics
- Assist in the development of benchmarks for key steps in the clinical-development process, compare to industry standards and suggest ways to improve performance where appropriate
- Reconcile and interpret Clinical Planning & Analytics services data, providing solid recommendations and scenario planning as required
- Developing automated build capabilities and processes as part of DevOps automated testing capabilities and processes as part of the DevOps
- Assist all members of the Quality Department with requested general tasks or data analyses
- Perform clinical quality data mining activities on targeted data sets or targeted healthcare entities
- Perform monthly data-stewardship activities
- Provides leadership and strategic direction to the ClinOps Analytics group
- Accountable for leveraging diverse data sources from across ClinOps and applying cutting edge analytical tools and approaches to inform strategy of the entire ClinOps organization
- Directs development of metrics, collection and cleansing of ClinOps data, and enables calculation of KPIs that lend actionable insight into processes and activities across the breadth of ClinOps

Qualifications for clinical analytics

- 5+ years' experience in the use and application of claims-based quality measurement, preferably Symmetry or Impact Suite applications
- 5+ years' experience in the use and application of claims-based episode analytics, preferably Symmetry's Episode Treatment Groups or Impact Suite applications
- Strong knowledge of national quality measurement programs and standards
- Demonstrated ability to translate quantitative measurements into meaningful outcomes to key stakeholders
- Strong organizational skills (e.g., prioritize and manage multiple tasks, meet deadlines