

Example of Clinical Business Analyst Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is growing rapidly and is searching for experienced candidates for the position of clinical business analyst. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for clinical business analyst

- Responsible for Clinical Projects and acts as a Clinical Subject Matter Expert
- Understands and can discuss the application and implications of changes to process, policies and procedures within the Clinical capability
- Provide analytical support and expertise needed to translate requirements into solutions
- Solves complex problems and / or conducts complex analysis
- Responsible for facilitating meetings and presenting documented requirements and complex concepts with clients / customers
- Responsible for writing and documenting business requirements
- Provide advanced analytical and reporting support to customers on various projects
- Use advanced knowledge of enterprise data warehousing, statistical and data mining methods to perform data preparation, processing and analysis
- Design, maintain, and automate the production of dashboards, scorecards, reports, and analytic models
- Collaborate with IT to improve the quality of analytics and reporting processes according to internal and customer requirements Keeps abreast of new analytics tools and methodologies for possible deployment

Qualifications for clinical business analyst

- 1+ years Healthcare work experience
- 3+ years of experience as a Business Analyst facilitating and documenting

- Excellent written and verbal communication skills are required - must be able to communicate ideas and analysis in a clear concise fashion to clients, colleagues and senior business leaders
- Experience with use and configuration of healthcare software applications (preferably clinical software)
- 1+ year Testing (UAT) experience
- Experience working with all phases of Agile