

Example of Color Designer Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our growing company is hiring for a color designer. We appreciate you taking the time to review the list of qualifications and to apply for the position. If you don't fill all of the qualifications, you may still be considered depending on your level of experience.

Responsibilities for color designer

- Works with the leaders in buying and design to implement focused, innovative color stories and strategies
- Collaborate with Director's and color team to craft strategic color palettes and category palettes
- Management of color development for categories through supply chain
- Management of color tools, category palettes and development of dyed color tools for categories
- Designers are required to maintain an awareness of developments in related fields, furniture, fashion, architecture design, and apply that knowledge to automotive design
- Remains cognizant of developments within of the related industrial fields to incorporate innovation and technical advantages into current and future product programs
- Design, develop strategy and implement color, material and finish solutions for multiple brands of home appliances
- Support the development and visualization of brand experience
- Forecast and analyze color, material and finish trends for regional and global products
- Understand and communicate home interior color, finish and material trends

Qualifications for color designer concepts in written form

- Troubleshoot, design, perform college level mathematics, coordinate and perform special task/projects simultaneously, make decisions, operate independently and with discretion, and work effectively under pressure
- Training skills are required when working with prototype production operations
- Superior knowledge of textile technology including dyeing and finishing
- Demonstrate an understanding of the supply chain activities and logistics associated with the delivery of finished product
- Clear POV and knowledge of fashion and trends to use in implementing color ideas and selections