Our innovative and growing company is looking for a consultant associate. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for consultant associate

- Software and firmware maintenance of the Database servers in the Database machine including upgrades and patching
- Software and firmware maintenance of the Exadata storage servers in the Database machine including upgrades and patching
- Software and firmware maintenance of the InfiniBand switches in the Database machine including upgrades and patching
- Integration of Exadata monitoring and escalation into existing IT monitoring and actionable events solutions
- Provide and implement performance and tuning recommendations of all components in the Database machines
- Advise, provide guidance and develop Disaster Recovery strategies for these Database machines
- Configure the machines to meet internal security requirements
- Working with Global teams across the continents
- Able to co-manage a smaller RFP with a more senior employee
- Able to support the categories of the practice area that within which they reside

Qualifications for consultant associate

- Business fluent in English and Mandarin, both in written and spoken
- Professional and efficient handling of Microsoft Office applications and JIRA
- Design & development of classical reports, ALV, Smartforms

- EDI/B2B, and EDI standards like EDIFACT, ANSI/X12
- Be Located in the Minneapolis / St