Our innovative and growing company is searching for experienced candidates for the position of core java developer. To join our growing team, please review the list of responsibilities and qualifications.

Responsibilities for core java developer

- Support or lead design, estimation and planning tasks for the solution using technical and functional expertise
- May be required to be hands-on developer for complex areas
- Review and evaluates designs and project activities for compliance with applications design and development guidelines and standards
- Implement new features and defects to support the product roadmap and its customer base
- Lead the coordination with support engineers, escalation managers, partners, customers, product manager and R&D manager over technical issues related to the product
- Develop the front-end and implement the required Enhancements, defects
- Cooperating with the backend developer in the process of building the front-end elements and working with RESTful APIs
- Deliver high-quality and reusable code as per the requirements
- Leads project teams of other software systems engineers and internal and outsourced development partners responsible for all stages of design and development for complex products and platforms, including solution design, analysis, coding, testing, and integration
- Basic design, build or maintenance of web sites, using authoring or scripting languages, content creation tools, management tools and digital media

Qualifications for core java developer

- A solid background in producing secure, scalable, highly performant software
- Experience working with large data sets in Java
- Very comfortable with GNU/Linux, its commands and basic configuration files, and at least one scripting language
- At least 10 years of experience in application development*LI-EM1
- 5+ years' experience with real time, high volume transaction systems preferred