Our company is looking for a data science consultant. To join our growing team, please review the list of responsibilities and qualifications.

Responsibilities for data science consultant

- Works independently to research and analyze but also interact with other analysts within the department other functional areas of the company
- Makes observations and defines problem statements and trusted to take necessary action in resolving
- Blends quantitative and qualitative analyses efficiently
- Filters information and makes presentations based on analysis
- Builds networks and partnerships, influences others
- Negotiates outcomes
- Collaborate with business and IT teams to understand the challenges and deliver business insights and reporting solutions
- Should have hands on experience in spend analytics pertaining to Procurement and Supply Chain
- Adept at working with large data sets
- Integration of data from different sources such as spend database, ERP systems etc

Qualifications for data science consultant

- Master's Degree or above in Statistics, Applied Mathematics, Computer Science, Industrial Engineering, or related quantitative focus is a must
- 3~5 years of deep analytical experience in digital marketing, ideally of financial industry, with significant expertise in quantitative methodologies of marketing analytics, web analytics, machine learning and/or computational advertising

- Master's degree from top tier college/university in Computer Science, Statistics, Economics, Physics, Engineering, Mathematics, or other closely related field
- You will answer our customer's most relevant questions using advanced analytics skills, ideas and insights
- You will have to develop machine learning models and validate their performance quantifying business impact