Our company is growing rapidly and is hiring for a database designer. Thank you in advance for taking a look at the list of responsibilities and qualifications. We look forward to reviewing your resume.

Responsibilities for database designer

- Work closely with the Infrastructure, Operations, and SW Engineering staffs as needed to help troubleshoot and maintain production databases and to resolve production outages
- Communicate complex technical information in a timely, concise and coherent manner
- Maintain an in depth understanding of industry trends and evolving technology
- This is a position with duties surrounding all phases of software life-cycle development
- Completing tasks assigned by the Lead Developer/Architect and/or the Project Manager
- Develop logical and physical geospatial data models based on client driven business requirements
- Provides support for expanding and varied programming work
- Works with other technical team members to coordinate the completion of tasks
- Understand the day-to-day operations of the client and the technology being deployed and can help define and implement functionality that meets the requirements of the project's specifications
- Support developers and testers in troubleshooting database problems

Qualifications for database designer

- Fluent in English and Chinese (due to business communication with Chinese-speaking countries)
- Strong solution maker
- Med Tech, Lab Testing, Medical Terminology
- Work is performed in a general office setting
- Work is performed with multiple interruptions