Our growing company is hiring for a development team lead. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for development team lead

- Write code based on the business/technical specifications and conduct code reviews to ensure standards are being met
- Develop unit test case or text class and perform unit testing of the code
- Analyze and design functional application architecture and specifications
- Maintain and improve the performance of existing systems
- Contribute to team development by mentoring and providing guidance and opportunities to Junior or Peer Developers
- Partner with internal business clients and IT staff to plan programming projects by confirming and documenting program objectives, requirements, and specifications
- Continuously learn and improve skills by participating in formal and informal educational opportunities, reading professional publications, and maintaining personal networks
- Working closely with supervisors/management
- Responsible for planning, processing and performing all jobs in an efficient manner with little to no assistance from a supervisor/manager
- Making presentations to customers or professional peers

Qualifications for development team lead

- Over 8 Years of IT experience in various technologies which includes ETL/BI experience with very good understanding of Data Warehousing concepts, Data Analysis, Data Warehouse Architecture and Designing
- Support the marketing of the Collaboration Service across the Group

assignments
- Support the Collaboration Services to meet governance, financial and performance targets
- Experience of business, IT and industry in roles that can demonstrate successful delivery and technical solutions in challenging, client-facing environments
- Experience of working in the Energy industry