

Example of Director, Clinical Research Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our growing company is searching for experienced candidates for the position of director, clinical research. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for director, clinical research

- Contributes to the preparation of research manuscripts for publication in the area of TBI
- Collaborates with Program Manager and monitors contract program activities
- Ensures effective communication and knowledge sharing with DVBIC research colleagues
- Attends and presents at conferences
- Establishes and maintains appropriate staff to ensure that clinical research projects (and patient care
- Serves as a liaison between DVBIC nationally
- Responsible for the completion of individual workload accountability in accordance with research program
- Abides by all applicable regulations with regard to Utilization Review and Quality Improvement directives including
- Assists other contract service providers
- Participates

Qualifications for director, clinical research

- Solid Clinical Trials background
- Experience and/or skills in of these research, business, software, web technology, or related areas is desired but not required
- High-performing and energetic individual who demonstrates outstanding scientific knowledge applicable to oncology clinical research and the highest

- The successful candidate must be equally comfortable among the team to which he/she is assigned and in the global environment in which the company operates
- The Director of Clinical Research, Oncology, will be the key physician contact for sites and investigators during site start-up and study execution
- The Director will act as a liaison between the company and clinical investigators