

Example of Director, Clinical Research Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our innovative and growing company is searching for experienced candidates for the position of director, clinical research. To join our growing team, please review the list of responsibilities and qualifications.

Responsibilities for director, clinical research

- Participate in ongoing in vitro, in vivo and clinical data review and interpretation of data analyses of clinical trial results
- Responsible for review and analysis of clinical data including safety monitoring in collaboration with Product Safety
- Review serious adverse event (SAE) reports from ongoing clinical studies and spontaneous reports
- Preview listings, lab reports, and subject profiles as defined within the Safety Monitoring Plan
- Additional tasks may involve attendance and participation at Investigator Meetings, preparation of subject narratives, review of study reports and other documents, preparation and/or review of periodic and interim safety reports
- Monitor clinical trial progress including, but not limited to, drug safety, assessments and tracking of patient safety and protocol deviations
- Development of biomarker strategies through cross-functional teams that provide line-of-sight from First-in-Human studies through clinical Proof-of-Concept
- Identification of novel targets by partnering with discovery research teams to bring a clinical perspective into the earliest stages of target identification and validation, and executing clinical studies that can be bridged into full development
- Key member of early development teams, providing leadership in designing and executing early clinical development strategy

Qualifications for director, clinical research

- Prior experience within the DoD/VA systems of care and providing clinical and/or research services to individuals
- Strong knowledge in human research activities
- Experience with and/or knowledge of current TBI research is highly desired
- Ability to function independently with a high degree of professionalism and clinical judgment required
- Experience with grant application processes and implementation is highly desirable
- Ability to facilitate and present information to small and large groups the flexibility to re-prioritize quickly required