

Example of Director, Clinical Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our growing company is looking to fill the role of director, clinical. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for director, clinical

- Support execution of clinical studies/post marketing research programs, interpretation of results, and preparation of oral and written internal/external presentations, including FDA or Regulatory body submissions external review bodies (e.g., co-license partners and Jansen affiliates)
- Strategically align and partner with individuals and groups within and outside Medical Affairs (e.g., GCDO, R&D, Global Medical Affairs, Regulatory Affairs, Clinical Compliance) for critical issues resolution related to clinical and outcomes programs and operations, compliance with training requirements, and audit
- Achieves the outcomes of the organization in relation to core measures, regulatory influences, pay for performance, HCAPS, staff and customer satisfaction and identifies areas for ongoing growth and development
- Lead the clinical trial protocol development process by independently translating the Clinical Development Plan strategy and approved trial concept sheets into efficient, high quality, executable clinical protocols and related documents supported by appropriate external
- Lead and direct population health strategies and care coordination activities
- Manage all quality-driven value-based payment programs to ensure maximum incentive reimbursements
- Assist in the monitoring and analysis of clinical quality data
- Confirm a Quality Management System (QMS) is developed, implemented and maintained, for all phases of testing, to include the pre-analytic, analytic, and post-analytic phases of testing general laboratory systems on creation of metrics, key quality and performance indicators

- Leverages analytics to perform trend analysis of monitoring information on in-house and outsourced studies to identify gaps in performance and quality

Qualifications for director, clinical

- Facilitate ongoing improvement of research approaches in translational and clinical pharmacology
- Represent Clinical Pharmacology on project teams and in governance proceedings
- Requires an MD or DO degree, preferably board eligible
- At least 3 years of clinical development experience in the pharmaceutical/biotech Industry
- Bachelors degree in biology or related field (or equivalent experience required), advanced degree preferred with at least 15 years of experience managing a manufacturing team in the biotechnology or biologics industry, preferably with 5+ years as a leader of leaders
- Previous cell culture experience preferred/highly desired