

Example of Drupal Developer Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our growing company is looking to fill the role of drupal developer. We appreciate you taking the time to review the list of qualifications and to apply for the position. If you don't fill all of the qualifications, you may still be considered depending on your level of experience.

Responsibilities for drupal developer

- Contribute to maintenance of continuous integration automation, deployment automation, and configuration management
- Work with business staff to guide technical solutions to business problems
- Develop, test, document, and maintain features and functionality while building cutting edge web solutions that are highly optimized and responsive
- Add features/functionality within existing websites based on usability, efficiency, and best practices
- Turn design requirements and prototypes into working applications optimized for speed and scalability
- Generate end-to-end solutions based on wireframe designs and limited specifications with the ability to push through technical and resource roadblocks
- Identify and report development status issues to management in a timely manner
- Work within a cross-geographical collaborative development team with the willingness to eagerly present ideas to the team
- Provide quality assurance control on all projects including cross-browser and cross-platform compatibility
- Work closely with the technology and design teams with open communication

Qualifications for drupal developer

- Strong software development background in developing Web-based content management applications and workflows
- Ability to work independently and mentor junior members of the development team
- 2+ years of experience building Drupal websites, including working with Content Types, Fields, Taxonomy, Views, Panels, Features
- Experience working with CSS pre-processors (Sass), post-processors (PostCSS, Autoprefixer), task runners such as Gulp or Grunt
- Experience with Atomic Design and component-based design systems such as Pattern Lab
- Hands-on experience planning, building out, and maintaining large-scale responsive sites in Drupal