

Example of Echocardiographer Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is looking to fill the role of echocardiographer. We appreciate you taking the time to review the list of qualifications and to apply for the position. If you don't fill all of the qualifications, you may still be considered depending on your level of experience.

Responsibilities for echocardiographer

- Monitors patient documentation for timely completion and accuracy
- Provides input to staff performance evaluations
- Performs the duties of a staff technologist
- Coordinates with the System Administrator, fellow echo cardiologists, to ensure that there is necessary 24/7 personnel coverage
- Performs bench work, which may include measuring and mounting of echocardiograms, training new personnel to increase skills and knowledge of departmental procedures
- Maintains and submits required data for Quality Assurance ICAEL
- Assumes other responsibilities and duties that relate to patient care as required
- Performs duties as assigned by the Director or Medical Directors
- Keeps equipment clean and in good working order
- Performs routine and transesophageal echocardiograms of high quality on newborn, infant, child, adolescent, adult, and geriatric patients

Qualifications for echocardiographer

- New hires or incumbents must successfully complete the registry for echocardiography certification within 12 months if not certified at the time of employment
- Requires a degree from an accredited echocardiography/radiology program

- The ability to demonstrate a thorough knowledge and understanding of policies and procedures in performing job duties
- Requires a certificate from an approved echocardiology program