

Example of EEG Technologist Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is growing rapidly and is looking for an EEG technologist. We appreciate you taking the time to review the list of qualifications and to apply for the position. If you don't fill all of the qualifications, you may still be considered depending on your level of experience.

Responsibilities for EEG technologist

- Perform all the basic procedures/processes associated with the Epilepsy Monitoring Unit (EMU)
- Edits and forwards results to attending physician for further analysis and interpretation
- Under the general direction of the Director of Pulmonary Services and Neurodiagnostics, performs clinical Electroencephalograms, Electronystagmograms, and Evoked Potential recordings
- Perform a wide range of electroencephalograms including routine, portable and continuous EEG
- Perform long term video EEG monitoring
- Perform other electroneurodiagnostic examinations
- Maintain and inventory laboratory equipment and supplies
- Records, processes, files and charges (as applicable) daily pertinent patient data relative to their job duties
- Ensures inpatient and outpatient records are sent to medical records
- Assures reports and recordings are available to the physicians at all times

Qualifications for EEG technologist

- EEG certification
- Experienced in working with pediatric patients
- Familiar with International 10-20 system

- Must be registered with the American Board of Registered EEG Technologist with two (2) years of satisfactory continuous recent experience as an EEG Technologist, or has three (3) years of satisfactory continuous recent experience as an EEG Technologist
- Must have the demonstrated ability to perform all of the duties required of this classification as determined by the Employer, such as Evoked Potentials, EMGs, polysomnograms and other specialized tests