

Example of EHS Manager Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is hiring for an EHS manager. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for EHS manager

- Obtains necessary environmental permits for operations of the facilities and works with departments to ensure permit conditions are being met
- Lead investigation of accidents, incidents, and near misses to identify causes and to determine how such accidents might be prevented in the future
- Site EHS Program
- Influencing EHS culture
- Maintain compliance with all applicable Waste, Water and Air regulations through required preventative maintenance of the equipment, recordkeeping, preparation of report and plans
- Provide leadership to site staff, employees and EHS committees that will continue to drive a strong EHS culture
- Drive EHS compliance through audits, process / equipment review and proactive risk elimination and track corrective actions to closure
- Coordinate and conduct EHS training for employees contractors and visitors as needed
- Compile periodic reports to HQ, work cooperatively with EHS HQ on various simplification and risk reduction projects and initiatives
- Lead efforts to maintain VPP Star Status at site and ISO 18000/14000 certification

Qualifications for EHS manager

- Registered Fire Safety Manager
- Minimum 6-10 years relevant working experience in similar capacity

- Experienced in site incident management and managing of hazardous substance
- Experienced in company emergency response team audit conducted by SCDF
- Experienced in ISO14001 & OHSAS18001 system and liaising with external auditors