

Example of Electric Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is growing rapidly and is looking for an electric. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for electric

- Support hardware sensors, switching devices and passive components specification development
- Plan and contract for three of the Company's local electric distribution utilities
- Provide analytical insight into the supply portfolios across jurisdictions
- Assist in the development of electric hedging and procurement strategies consistent with the regulatory policies and practices applicable in each jurisdiction in which the Company operates
- Monitor and/or assess working practices to ensure they are compliant with legislation and governance
- Research and select relevant cost, policy and other information in order to enable analysis of key electric supply market themes and trends
- Produce high level and detailed electric scheduling and/or trading models to support senior management in defining operating strategies
- Develop and maintain electric scheduling and/or trading, planning, and bidding models and procedures in order to support design solutions and enhance efficiency and operability
- Challenge existing ways of working and continuously seek better ways to perform electric procurement and scheduling in order to drive greater efficiencies within assigned area
- Utilize established systems to track electric purchases and sales and highlight variances in order to manage and control specific cost variables

Qualifications for electric

- OReads, understands and implements directions of appropriate maintenance manuals to identify and locate associated components
- OStrong attention to detail and focus on quality and accuracy
- Experiences and knowledge with electronic circuit simulation tools is preferred
- Systematic and structured working style
- Fluent in both oral and written English, can freely communicate with cross functional team in English
- Ability and knowledge to develop standard operating procedures for field personnel to perform overhead electric work and connections on energized distribution/transmission facilities is preferred