Our company is looking for an electrical maintenance technician. Please review the list of responsibilities and qualifications. While this is our ideal list, we will consider candidates that do not necessarily have all of the qualifications, but have sufficient experience and talent.

Responsibilities for electrical maintenance technician

- Performs preventive electrical and mechanical maintenance functions as directed
- Allen-Bradley experience is highly preferred
- Out Predictive/Preventive Maintenance task that requires technical knowledge
- Out simple repairs on fundamental equipment (replacement of worn out parts or
- Initiates and participates in continuous improvement through cost savings, gainsharing and kaizen or other related activities · Follow all safety policies & procedures
- Comply with all safety policies and regulations including the use of proper PPE
- Test faulty equipment to diagnose malfunctions, using test equipment or software, and applying knowledge of the functional operation of industrial units and systems
- Calibrate testing instruments and install or repair equipment to prescribed specifications
- Investigate downtime events by reviewing work orders and discussing with production operators and supervisors to determine what factors contributed to the events and downtime
- Consult with customers, supervisors, or engineers to plan layout of Qualifications for electrical maintenance technician

- Ability to learn Process Control and Instrumentation Systems
- Five to Ten years of maintenance experience a plus
- Must be well versed in the use of PCs, software maintenance, and network systems with multiple protocol – Ethernet, DH+, CAN, Profibus, Experience with MP2 is desired
- Must have effective communications, and decision-making skills high degree of safety awareness and the ability to apply logical thought to identifying and solving machine problems
- Minimum of five to seven years of experience troubleshooting manufacturing equipment in an electrical support role
- 3 to 5 years of work experience as a Journeyman Electrician in a similar role