Our company is looking to fill the role of enterprise application architect. To join our growing team, please review the list of responsibilities and qualifications.

Responsibilities for enterprise application architect

- Conceptualizes creative EAI solutions, develops specifications and presents solutions to senior
- Leadership for inclusion in IT global strategic plan
- Perform an active, leading role in shaping and enhancing overall EAI architecture
- Establish EAI standards and best practices in conjunction with Enterprise Architect
- Communicate and promote adoption of practices and standards within EAI development teams
- Design and maintain enterprise specific EAI message specifications and protocols in conjunction with Enterprise Architect
- Evaluate emerging trends and practices with the overall EAI community for application within the Enterprise
- Collaborate with vendor product development teams and senior designers to develop requirements to influence new features within the EAI toolsets
- Create innovative, enterprise-level strategic business and technology solutions for the most complex and/or high-risk business situations utilizing standard functionality and seeded best practices in Oracle EBS and related applications
- Fosters and maintains good relationships with colleagues to meet expected customer service levels

Qualifications for enterprise application architect

- Experience in the identification of opportunities to perform optimisations such as improving performance, scalability, availability, throughput, failover
- Lead the definition and communication of control & security standards and guidelines for all applications
- This role will require excellent collaboration skills working across all segments, functions and infrastructure teams interacting frequently with senior level leaders and company directors
- Deep experience of defining and leading the implementation of Identity and Access Management solutions
- Broad SAP functional business process knowledge with special emphasis on security risk and security experience