

Example of Environmental Director Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is growing rapidly and is hiring for an environmental director. Please review the list of responsibilities and qualifications. While this is our ideal list, we will consider candidates that do not necessarily have all of the qualifications, but have sufficient experience and talent.

Responsibilities for environmental director

- Provide EHS support for company events, volunteer days, high profile media and sporting events occurring outside of the U.S
- Oversee international EHS budget of ~£200k
- Responsible for developing strategic policy direction and leading the organization towards our Zero Harm to the environment vision and supporting the Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) efforts of the company
- Ensure that the environmental and CSR strategies and programs at the corporate and businesses levels are well-aligned with business strategies
- Set global standards for protection of the public and the environment in the communities where the company operates
- Provide visibility of environmental progress, performance, and issues to the executive leadership team
- Develop strategic direction on assigned company remediation sites to reduce risks and costs and drive effective site remediation
- Ensure that the EHS Compliance Assurance audit program is current, update modules and audit protocols as new locations and/or risks are identified, and assist in soliciting bids and selecting consultants to perform the audits
- Support talent development of EHS staff related to environmental and stewardship efforts through mentoring and training programs
- Work to foster an atmosphere of openness and information sharing in order to encourage a culture of high awareness, transparency and diligence with respect to environmental matters

-
- O(Desired) Masters degree or technical H&S certification (CIH, CSP, CPE)
 - OExperience in auditing and implementing EHS programs internationally, beyond USA and UK
 - OSolid stakeholder management, networking, relationship building and influencing skills
 - OCross-cultural work experience
 - OExcellent organizational, technical, analytical, and program and project management skills
 - ODemonstrated ability to effectively work in a fluid business environment and report into a matrixed management team