

Example of Environmental Professional Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is growing rapidly and is hiring for an environmental professional. We appreciate you taking the time to review the list of qualifications and to apply for the position. If you don't fill all of the qualifications, you may still be considered depending on your level of experience.

Responsibilities for environmental professional

- Maintains familiarity with Asset's emergency response plans and incident command system
- Provide technical support for remediation work including approvals, operational notifications, reporting of soil disturbances or discoveries, removal of pits or production equipment
- Facility contact for inter-company EHS matters, primary contact to local regulatory officials (OSHA/EPA)
- Develop methods to identify operation hazards and evaluate safety problem areas
- Compile, analyze, and interpret accident, loss, and exposure statistical data
- Primary Client Services Lead and Strategist
- Technical Lead, Management and Development of Technical Communications for National Retail Clients
- Provide leadership and strategic direction for the company's EHS program
- Act as the primary liaison for regulatory agency visits, inquiries and correspondence
- Understand regulatory changes and trends, and forecast company impacts

Qualifications for environmental professional

- BS/BA Degree (Masters preferred) preferably in either GIS or a related

- Bachelor's degree in Engineering, Analytical Chemistry, or other related scientific field
- 10 years of significant environmental regulatory experience in water/wastewater media
- Subject matter expert in US Clean Water Act regulations
- Knowledge of water pollution control practices and technologies
- Working knowledge of environmental water chemistry, wastewater treatment and management, drinking water systems, land application, and storm water conveyance