Our company is growing rapidly and is looking for an ERP developer. Please review the list of responsibilities and qualifications. While this is our ideal list, we will consider candidates that do not necessarily have all of the qualifications, but have sufficient experience and talent.

Responsibilities for ERP developer

- Produce documentation to describe custom configuration of PeopleSoft Applications and operating procedures to liaise with third party application development consultants
- Investigate and resolve application functionality related issues, providing first level support and assisting in troubleshooting for PeopleSoft software application issues
- Assist in managing and outsourcing relationships for third party application development and programming consultants
- Provide assistance and advice to business users in effective use of applications and information technology
- Perform detailed technical analysis and capable of documenting functional/technical requirements and system impact to ensure the successful delivery and support of various applications
- Research and prepare associated Program documentation and contract deliverables
- Support Training Hands- On Environment and data preparation
- Support cross team collaboration
- Support and maintain Training team metrics
- Maintain an understanding of IPPS-A development practices and standards

Qualifications for ERP developer

- Experience building database-driven web applications
- Knowledge of SDLC, preferably in an agile environment
- Experience working with IDEs such as Eclipse or IDEA
- Experience working with code versioning tools such as Perforce or Git